Statement by Mesmer affiliating the Society of Harmony of Grenoble with the Society of Harmony of France. He stipulates that the affiliate must adhere to the regulations that he has given to its representative, and that these regulations will serve as a binding agreement between himself and the affiliate. Grenoble No. 11

I, Antoine Mesmer, Doctor of Medicine, originator of the discovery of animal magnetism, and founder and president for life of the Societies of Harmony, considering that the propagation of my doctrine is the purpose to which I have always set myself for the good of humanity, and knowing particularly well the sentiments, zeal, and virtues that inspire the various members who form the Society of Harmony of Grenoble, established by Mr. Nicolas, the King's doctor,

Do, according to the principles that constitute my doctrine, confirm and affiliate the aforementioned society, under the name of the Society of Harmony of Grenoble, in order that it may continue to pattern itself on the Society of Harmony of France. The said Society of Grenoble shall deal, as it has until now, with the practice and especially the development and advancement of my doctrine, scrupulously conforming to the regulations that I have signed and delivered to the Chevalier of Landes, Captain in the Infantry Regiment of Brittany, and member and deputy of the aforementioned Society of Grenoble. The said regulations shall be considered a binding agreement between myself on the one hand and the Society of Harmony of Grenoble, by agreement of its deputy, on the other hand.

May the said Society of Harmony of Grenoble always retain and pass on to its future members that ardent desire to ease the man who suffers, who alone can give the doctrine and the practice of animal magnetism all its potential energy, so that it produces the most beneficial results.

Given in Paris May 1st, 1789.
