

ANESTHESIOLOGY REFLECTIONS FROM THE WOOD LIBRARY-MUSEUM

Dr. Paul Wood's Academy of Anesthesiology "Active Membership" Certificate

On "Ether Day's Eve," October 15, 1958, Dr. Paul M. Wood received Active Membership Certificate No. 21 (above) from The Academy of Anesthesiology. Founded by Mayo Clinic's John S. Lundy, M.D., in 1929, as the Anaesthetists Travel Club, this organization of leading North American anesthesiologists met annually to update each other on advances in the art and science of anesthesiology. The Travel Club was resurrected, after a brief wartime lapse, as "The Academy of Anesthesiology" in 1952. The Academy continues today with active membership limited to 75 anesthesiologists.
